In the Media Indesign Vol 34

AXA Rosenberg commissioned IDPM to undertake the turnkey design and construction of their new office fitout at Circular Quay, Sydney. This was a competitive bid and awarded to IDPM due to our unique and comprehensive design proposal.

Our client's brief called for a unique working environment to be created and our concept creation was based on Zen-inspired interiors. The design provided a peaceful and relaxing environment for staff and visitors. This interior was not just for typical corporate 9-5 activity, but to be a place enjoyed by staff and visitors alike - a "place to hang" and feel comfortable.

In line with our client's expectations we planned this project for completion prior to Christmas. Time proved to be one of the major challenges for this project but we overcame this with strong management skills and efficient project implementation.

CLIENT TESTIMONIAL

"Stunningly brilliant...This is just amazing...loving it."
